EXPERIENCE

Principal—Centennial High School
Las Cruces Public Schools
May 2011—Current

As the Principal of the newest high school in Las Cruces, I had the opportunity to work with the Director of Construction, contractor, and architect to ensure the construction of the new high school was conducive to the District's vision of Centennial High. I was afforded the opportunity to handpick a group of highly qualified educators who would help mold the instructional component of Centennial. In the few short years Centennial has existed, our school has exceeded our expectations in every aspect—academics, athletics, and extracurricular activities. We achieved accreditation through the North Central Association within the first two years of operation. Centennial has since made a name for itself within the state of New Mexico and Las Cruces as an innovative high school. I surround myself with the best and brightest so our children can benefit greatly from these fine educators.

Principal—Picacho Middle School
Las Cruces Public Schools
September 2003—May 2011

I was appointed Principal at Picacho Middle School in September 2003 by then Superintendent Louis Martinez. I assumed the responsibility to implement innovative changes to a low performing school. In my eight years at Picacho, we implemented a school wide discipline plan; introduced best practices; established continuous class improvement initiatives; developed professional learning communities; built a strong staff; utilized developmental assets to build strong student-teacher relationships; built community trust; and increased student population from ~500 to ~800+ by the time I ended my tenure there.
